Ethics and confidentiality

All information exchanged in a private consultation and other data you share is strictly confidential and will only be used for the purpose of conducting the session. For relationship consultations or with respect to a third party who will not be present I will need their consent to use their birth data.

Disclaimer

I am not responsible for how you interpret the information I provide. An astrological counseling session is not intended to replace your own judgment, self-will or the professional advice of experts in other fields (i.e. medical or legal advice).

General Terms of Service and Cancellation Policy

Private Consultations are offered via Zoom or in person, in Greek or English. There are certain times within a year where I give priority to returning clients. The usual waiting time is one to two weeks. Reservations operate on a first come, first served basis. Zoom sessions are fully reserved upon payment. You will receive payment details via e-mail. I currently receive payments via direct bank transfer, PayPal or Revolut. Your address will be needed to issue a receipt of payment or your full business details for a B2B invoice. You can re-schedule with no additional charge one week prior to our session. For any cancellations and re-scheduling after that, there is an added charge of 30 euros to cover administrative costs and reviewing my notes. After every session you will receive an mp3 recording.

**Recordings may be disrupted due to unexpected computer glitches or technical problems, so they are not considered a part of the service. You can record the session yourself if you wish.*

I look forward to working with you!
